Delicate Wash Goods

Serial Story No. 25

The thin delicate ladies' Wash-goods, such as Shirts, Skirts, Negligees and Underclothing, is not worn out on your person. It is the continual washing. It is the laundry. It is not so much the way your clothing is handled, but it is the soaps, bluing and starches that work ruin. Now because we launder hundreds of these garments weekly we naturally know the best materials to use to give the best satisfaction to the patrons. We would not think of using soap containing a bit of lye on ladies' clothes. We would never dream of using the common bluing of commerce. We know by analysis starches that contain acids—and we do not buy them. We keep studying and experimenting all the time, in a scientific manner, how to launder. Don't you think it would be safe to entrust us with your work?

THE THAW CASE

New York, N. Y., March 15.—In the Thaw case today Abe Hummel, the criminal lawyer, testified that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw made an affidavit in 1903 that she had been beaten by Harry Thaw because she would not sign a statement that she had been ruined by Stanford White.

Abe Hummel was brought from the New York State penitentiary to give testimony in the Thaw case.
Hummel was one of a firm of lawyers who most successfully handled cases of a shady nature. Connection with a blackmail case landed him in Sing Sing some time ago.

MAIL SERVICE SUSPENDED

Wellington, N. Z., March 2.—Owing to irregularities in the mail service between San Francisco and New Zealand, the Government has decided that no mails to and from Great Britain shall be conveyed by that route for the present. The Suez canal route will be used instead.

The above action, regarding the suspended mail service via Honolulu, was probably called forth by the withdrawing from the line the steamships Ventura and Sierra.

COUNTERFEITING GANG IS AT WORK

That there is a gang of counterfeiters operating a plant on Maui and disposing of the "quon" on that island is the opinion of the Federal authorities here. An effort will be made at once to run down the gang and find the plant.

Suspicion as to the existence of such a gang was aroused by evidence which has been brought out in one of the district magistrate's courts on Maui during the trial of Lee On, a Chinese who was arrested and tried on the charge of gross theft for the alleged passing of a counterfeit $10 gold piece.
Under the laws of the Territory, gross cheat is the only charge that can be brought against him in the Territorial courts for such an offense, but the Federal authorities are having him held, and he will be brought to Honolulu, where the trial will be continued next Monday.

A most vigorous fight is being put up by the populace of Sacramento to prevent the "Removal Bill" from becoming operative. A strong campaign of resistance has already been started and it is getting warmer every minute.
The capital is about all there is to Sacramento. It is a dead city except when the lawmakers are busy, and what it will be if the capital is removed to Berkeley will not need very much hard thinking by anyone who knows the place. It is said that Governor Gillett favors the change to Berkeley.

GEAR'S BIG TALK

ON LANAI MATTERS

The Lanai Committee met Thursday night, in addition to members of the committee there were present L. L.
McCauley, Commissioner Pratt, Jno.
Martin and Henry Davis.

Mr. Gear, who had established the Mamala sugar plantation on Lanai, said that he was somewhat interested in that island. He had made an examination of the island in company with others who were interested. At the time of his visit Pain and Neumann had begun planting cane and were operating a small pumping plant. Lowrey, who was one of the party, had examined the soil. All along the coast streams of fresh water were flowing into the sea. Mr. Lowrey reported that the water prospects were good, and that there should be no trouble getting a good crop of cane.

William Studdard and a gang of laborers were engaged and considerable cane was put in, and everything seemed to be going along in a prosperous way.
The promoters declined offers of agencies, deciding to act as their own agents. Chinese represented two-thirds of the stockholders.

The turning of Chinatown by the government knocked out many of the Chinese shareholders and they could not meet their assessments. The result was that a receiver took charge of the plantation. Mr. Gear was of the opinion at that time and is of the opinion yet that a paying plantation could be established on the Maui end of the island.

Regarding the water supply, Mr.
Gear said that the plantation managers had considered Mamala gulch equal to the demands upon it for that commodity. Continuing, Mr. Gear said:

"I have seen cane growing on the other side of the island. There is a beautiful stretch of land there, a beautiful place, the most beautiful stretch of level land on the islands. I was amazed when I saw the beautiful pastoral scene the first time. Sheep were grazing there, the grass was luxuriant and the larks were singing."

"My personal opinion regarding the Lanai exchange, considering that people are leaving on almost every steamer and none coming in to take their place, is that the government ought to open all the land possible for settlers. The island of Lanai, if planted with trees, protected from the goats and opened up, would be very desirable for settlers. I believe that the same policy should be employed all over the islands, that as soon as the leases expire on the plantations, the land ought to be given to settlers, that we may build up a prosperous class of citizens and not have the large holdings now held. I believe the government would be justified in condemning and opening up the large tracts now privately held, for this country will never be prosperous until we have a substantial middle-class of land owners."

Mr. Gear is of the opinion that small holdings will continue to drift into the hands of the few until sugar is forced so low in price that the large plantations will go under.

Bates—"What are pillow shams?" Cates—"The blocks of wood they give you to sleep on in the country hotels."
